LEUCOS®

«My childhood memories led me to discover the timeless beauty of a LEUCOS. Falling in love with the brand's history and classic icons sparked a passion in me to modernize the industry and bring new life to its timeless classics.»

— Abramo Manfrotto

LEUCOS®

“Growing up as the son of the visionary entrepreneur and innovator behind the world-renowned Manfrotto, a manufacturer of professional camera and lighting equipment, I was drawn to the art of light in photography.

I always knew one day I would get into lighting, because from an early age I have been immersed in light: balanced, sublime, high-end professional photographic light – its ability to evoke emotions and shape moods captivated me.

Using the knowledge from the past and what we know today on innovation, business models, distribution, sustainability and bespoke solutions, I am confident that LEUCOS is the right partner to bring our clients vision to light”.

Over sixty years of lighting history

LEUCOS was born in 1962 near Venice, where craftsmanship is synonymous with art. Since the beginning, we have been known for creating lamps of unmistakable quality and unparalleled beauty.

At LEUCOS, we inspire your imagination and push the boundaries of conventional thinking.

The handblown glass represents the local tradition, but behind every new project there is a global ambition.

With a deep passion for timeless beauty, we are continuously driven to innovate and elevate our modern-classics.

Our formula is a combination of design, materials, manufacturing techniques, technologies, and exceptional human resources.

We offer both standard products with a high degree of customization options and fully bespoke solutions.

Our mission is to cultivate value for our clients, partners, and company.

This drives us to produce beautiful, expertly crafted, dependable, efficient, and long-lasting products through innovation and simplification.

Our commitment to excellence shines in every product we create - you spot it from afar.
